Intergy Chooses WebRezPro for Central Reservations System.

CALGARY, ALBERTA, March 20, 2007 - Intergy recently announced the selection of WebRezPro™ as the central reservations system for their expanding portfolio of properties. WebRezPro is a revolutionary Web-based Property Management System (PMS) for lodging operators created by World Web Technologies Inc.

“We are very pleased with Intergy's selection of the WebRezPro solution,” said Frank Verhagen, President of World Web Technologies. “As the central reservations and Web company for a large lodging group, Intergy manages some of the most recognized hotels in some of the most beautiful areas of North America. WebRezPro will help them manage their complex array of properties.”

“Intergy chose WebRezPro because of its flexibility, power and ease of use,” said Val Kalliecharan, President of Intergy. “Because WebRezPro is Internet based, it blends well into our existing systems and management procedures for our many properties. In addition, we have no additional investment costs for IT infrastructure.”

WebRezPro is used by properties of all types and sizes around the world. This proven, easy-to-use technology has all the features of a traditional PMS such as integrated accounting, GDS connectivity and multiple system interfaces. Additionally, WebRezPro offers several advantages available only in an Internet browser-based property management system. Users can access their business from any computer with a Web connection anywhere in the world.
